Centennial

These two pages contain more than pictures; they reveal the development of the school and its educational system from the one-room stage to the complex stage of today.

In this year of 1953, the Chesterton school system is celebrating its one hundredth year of existence. This anniversary should do more than remind one of a milestone; it should cause people to stop and consider the importance of education, and should help to promote the ideals which the early pioneers of Chesterton and all America established.

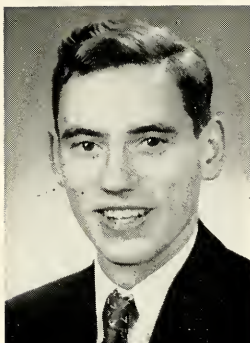

Highlights in the History of the Class of 1953

It seems like only yesterday that a group of 94 timid and bewildered students enrolled at CHS as freshmen, and thus began four years of happy, carefree learning. Our class sponsors that year; Miss Booher, Miss Hoare, and Mr. Hageman; quickly organized things and in our first class election, we chose Earl Ferguson as president; Dave Parry as vice-president; Maggie Tinsley as secretary-treasurer; and Marcee Young as student council representative. The freshman-sophomore reception was our first big social event and we really felt as if we were a part of the school at last.

The next year there were 99 boisterous kids, ready for another year of fun. For our leaders that year, we elected Don Lowery, president; John Smith, vice-president; Glenda Wallin, secretary; Dorothy Boersma, treasurer, and for student council representative we chose Joan McAvoy. Miss Sayers, Mr. Sipe, and Mr. Johnson were our sponsors. In the social world, we held a reception for those "green" freshmen and also had a class outing at Clear Lake near the end of the year.

There were 96 new important upper classmen in the fall of '51, and we all took on that air of distinction that comes with increased knowledge. We were busy raising funds; we sold everything from popcorn and magazines to Diaper Dans. Our officers that year were Joan McAvoy as president, Bruce Betterton as vice-president, Glenda Wallin as secretary, Marilyn Cook as treasurer, Des Stack as student council representative, and Art Price was elected vice-president of the Student Council. The Junior Prom was the highlight of our Junior year. It was held at Marquette Park Pavillion and everyone had a wonderful time.

In September of '52, 83 sophisticated Seniors returned to complete their last two semesters of high school education. John Smith was elected class president; Bruce Betterton, vice-president; Glenda Wallin, secretary; and Marilyn Cook, treasurer. Art Price was chosen to lead the student council. Our sponsors were Mrs. Koch, Mr. Goldsborough, and Mrs. Dold. Our final year was highlighted by several enjoyable events, including our trip to Indianapolis, the Fall Fiesta, and of course, the Prom. Before we knew it, it was over—and we had completed one of the most important periods in our lives.

Junior Class

With an eye to fun, finances, and facile fraternization, the Junior Class, aspiring heirs to the privileges of the venerable Seniors, handed the reins of their class government to President Rose Peer. Raymond Pierce, Vice-President; Marilyn Sibbrell, Treasurer; Doloris Bedenkop, Secretary; and Leon Cheesbrough, Student Council representative, were elected as aides.

Returns from the popcorn machine, a magazine drive, and concessions from some basketball games swelled the class coffers to an unprecedented high level, making possible the Junior-Senior Prom, "Starlite Fantasy," at Marquette Park on May 8.

Our quartette of class sponsors—Mrs. Decker, Mr. Munro, Mr. McCord, and Mr. Johnson—worked with us to bring our class through our third year of high school with full steam up.

ACTIVITIES

Student Council

Seated: Rose Peer, Joan Hroma, Art Price (President), Irwin Boo (Vice-President).
Standing: Mrs. Koch, Sandra Young, Bob Westergren, Leon Cheesbrough, Marcee Young.

Supervising numerous activities and solving various problems of the students are the chief duties of the Chesterton High School Student Council. The student council is the oldest organization in the school, operating continually under its constitution adopted in 1921. The council is composed of ten members a president, a vice-president, the presidents of the four classes and a special representative from each. The seventh and eighth grades are represented by non-voting observers.

Heading the student government is the president of the student body, a senior elected by the popular vote of the school. The president is assisted by the vice-president who is constitutionally required to be a junior.

The council meets regularly to conduct the business of providing a form of self-government for the school. Discussion of various problems which arise during the course of the year and obtaining a workable solution to them consume most of the time devoted to meetings. Considerable work is done outside of meetings, however, by the members in supervising the various activities sponsored by the council such as the intramural basketball program and the noon recreational program.

Members of the student council in 1952-53 were: Art Price, president; Irwin Boo, vice-president; John Smith, Marcee Young, Rose Peer, Leon Cheesbrough, Joan Hroma, Bob Westergren, John Lascocoe, and Sandra Young.

The school newspaper, "Scoop," is published for the purpose of keeping the students of the school informed on all the up-to-date happenings, and to help familiarize the members of the staff with newspaper work.

In addition to the regular issues, two "extras" were put out—one for the cheerleader election and the other for the sectionals. An April Fool issue was also published.

Two social events spiced the working year of the staff. The first event was a party held at the home of Bill Hokanson April 10, and the other, the annual spring outing.

The Biology Club of Chesterton High School is composed of students interested in natural science.

The aims of the club are to carry out a program of activities to promote interest, increase knowledge, and perfect skills in biological study.

Officers of the club were: president, Jim Strange; vice-president, Terry Stokes, and secretary-treasurer, Betty Nordholm. Mr. McCord was faculty sponsor.

The club began a project to provide for the construction of a greenhouse for the utilization by science classes in project work. A Botany Banquet was held to raise funds for the realization of the project.

The club also was in charge of arrangements for the two Science Fairs held in CHS in April.

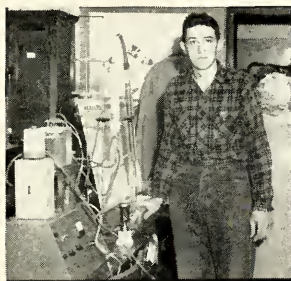

Projectors

Row 1: Jerry Ayres, Gary Granat, Eivin Kohler, John Kleberg.

Row 2: Mr. Ponader, Ken Cooper, Charles Neill, George Bohlin, Nolan Polley, Norman Crowell.

Boys who are interested in the duties performed by a stage crew form the Projectors' Club under the sponsorship of Mr. Ponader. They are trained in the operation of movie projectors, stage lighting, and other apparatus and perform valuable services to the school.

George Bohlin won top honors at the Porter County Science Fair held in the CHS library. His exhibit was a working model of a commercial method for generating hydrogen peroxide.

Science Fair

Norman Crowell took second place with his project demonstrating transmission of sound by light waves. This exhibit was named most outstanding in the local school Science Fair held two weeks previous to the County Science Fair.

Also recommended by the judges for participating in the National Science Fair at Oak Ridge, was Tom Johnson who exhibited a photoelectric stress analyzing apparatus.

The Porter County Science Fair was held in the Chesterton High School library on April 20 and 21.

The winners, sponsored by the Porter County Medical Society, were sent to participate in the National Science Fair at Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

Library Assistants

Suirley Lorenz, Mrs. Decker, Ellen Hanna, Marcia Peer, Kay Isbey, Barbara Kolie.

The library assistants are those students who, because of their interest in working with books, have volunteered their time and services in performance of the duties given them, thereby aiding the librarian.

Fine Arts

The class in fine arts is more essentially an organization because of the various activities carried out as group projects. Instruction in all fields of art is maintained to develop artistic ability in the students.

Practical Arts

The school shop makes available to the student an opportunity to gain an experience in the operation of many power machines as well as being equipped for instruction in the use of hand tools.

Home Economics

Classes designed to train girls in the art of home making.

"ON PARADE"

The senior band of Chesterton High School enjoyed an increase in membership over the previous year of about 20 pieces which can be attributed to the amount of effort expended on the part of the director, Mr. Betz, and the bandmen to extract a pleasurable experience from their participation in instrumental music.

The band began the year's activities by traveling to Bloomington to take part in the Indiana High School Band Day at Indiana University. The band also paraded for the Boosters, Halloween, and Fire Prevention Week.

In December, 30 members of the band took part in the Porter County Music Festival at Valpo.

A Pops Concert was presented in January and the annual spring concert was held in May.

On March 13 the band journeyed to the Emerson and Wirt schools to present a program of popular selections in return for concerts given by these schools at Chesterton.

Officers of the band were Bob Young, president; Bob Blumer, vice-president; Eleanor Hokanson, secretary-treasurer; and John Canright, student director.

The choral groups of Chesterton High School, under the direction of Mr. Johnston, although affected considerably more than most organizations in the school because of the crowded conditions which necessitated rehearsing in the Lions' building, enjoyed a successful year of providing musical programs for the enjoyment of the participants as well as the audiences.

The highlights of the 1952-53 school year were the Porter County Music Festival, at Valparaiso, the Christmas Vespers program, a combined band and chorus concert with Portage High School, the regular annual spring concert, and Bacca-laureate. Both the Boys' Chorus and the Mixed Chorus were rated "excellent" in the NISBOVA district contest held at Whiting.

The Junior-Senior Dramatics club is another school organization with a long history of active participation in the life of the school, being first organized twenty-two years ago.

Upper classmen who are interested in dramatics and in participation in school entertainment are eligible for membership.

The club presented the Christmas convocation, a play entitled "Christmas Is a Racket."

Several members completed requirements which made them eligible to join the National Thespians Society.

Officers of the club were Nancy Hine, president; Bill Johnson, vice-president; and DoLores Rak, secretary-treasurer. The faculty sponsor is Miss Sayers.

Spotlighters

Row 2: Miss Cauffman, Felice Dabbert, Millie Rak, Dan Johnston, Dick McGowan, John Hine, Jerry Oke, Martha Lowry, Kathleen Parry, Mr. Pogue.

Membership in this club is confined to freshmen and sophomores. The purpose of the club is to foster interest in the field of drama, present convocations, and serve as a step towards membership in the National Thespian Society.

The Spotlighters performed in the Thanksgiving Convocation, "Proposal by Proxy." The social event of the school year was a dinner-theatre party.

Miss Cauffman and Mr. Pogue co-sponsored the club. Officers for 1952-53 were:

Patsy Collins	President
Kathleen Parry	Vice-President
Priscilla Bagby	Secretary
Juanita Colley	Treasurer

"January Thaw" by William Roos, was presented by the senior class April 23 and 24, 1953.

The play, adapted from the novel by Bellamy Partridge, takes place in an old house in Connecticut, brought by the Gage family and restored to its early colonial condition. The plot is built around the difficulties encountered when the Rockwoods, former owners presumed dead, return from a six-year trip and claim their right to live in the house as stipulated in the deed.

Much of the chagrin of the Gages, who have three daughters, the Rockwoods have a son of questionable ambition who, though actually harmless, provides much humor to the entangled affairs when it appears that he and the oldest daughter, Barbara, elope, leaving her fiancé, George, out in the cold.

To make things more interesting the Gages are New York Democrats while the Rockwoods are staunch New England Republicans. Adding to the plot is another character, "Uncle Walter," who is just as much a Republican as the Rockwoods.

The Rockwoods are determined to live without modern "inconveniences" which fail the Gages when a storm hits, leaving them without heat, light, and food. Herbert Gage is stubbornly opposed to accepting anything from the Rockwoods lest they become obligated, but finally succumbs to the effects of cold and hunger which already had caused his long-suffering wife and rebellious children to take refuge with the Rockwoods.

The Y-Teens group decided to divide their organization into two clubs, the Senior Y-Teens and the Junior Y-Teens, to obtain a more beneficial program. The Junior group is composed of freshmen and sophomore girls.

Various service projects were carried out during the year including the sending of chocolates to the Philippines, supplying tooth brushes, combs, soap, and other articles to an Indian Orphanage in Arizona.

The social event of the year was the "Spring Serenade" turnabout dance held at Saidla's Roller Rink.

Officers of the club were: Norma Kleberg, President; Jackie Charlson, Vice-President; Rita Harvey, Secretary; and Rita Esmoer, Treasurer. Mrs. Spear sponsored the group during the first semester, and Mrs. Albrecht sponsored it the second semester.

 Row 4: Marilyn Freed, Arlene Abel, Maggie Tinsley, Glenda Wallin, Joan McAvoy, Joan Youngren, Marilyn Cook, Mary Tierney, Eleanor Kosmatka, Ellen Hanna, Donna Conru.

The Y-Teen Club, which is a branch of the Y.W.C.A., is organized essentially as a service organization. Any high school girl who is willing to accept the Y-Teen purpose is eligible to belong.

Y-TEEN PURPOSE

"To build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians. In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share His love for all people and to grow in the knowledge and love of God."

The Senior Y-Teens have done many services this year, such as sending chocolate to the children of Hong Kong, making favors for a nursing home, and sending clothes to needy people. Candy sales, snow shoveling, and baby sitting are projects designed to help with the expenses of the services.

In September a beach party was given for all freshmen girls. Dancing classes were held with teachers from the Arthur Murray studios officiating. The "Cinderella Ball," a formal dance, was held on November 15, at the Gary Y.W.C.A. and a style show, sponsored by Agnes Ohming of Michigan City, was held April 14, with members of Y-Teens acting as models.

Officers

Doloris Bendenkop, secretary; Joanne Miller, treasurer; Joy Michaels, vice president; Glenda Wallin, president.

Junior Hi-Y

Row 1: Edwin Miller, Dick Ruhe, Danny Johnston, Bruce Caswell, Fred Smith, Bob DeMass, Bruce Bassett, Bill LaTour, Bob Marquardt.

Row 2: Russell Carlson, Paul Johnston, Terry Stokes, David Coombs, Allen Jensen, Francis Pinkham, Wesley Brandt, Mr. Johnson.

Row 3: John Ruoff, Fred Rodeman, Jack Ludginton, Bill Jeffrey, Paul Glawe, Bill Wood, Donald Chaplin, Raymond Klucznik, John Hine.

Because of the disadvantages in an organization that had become too large to insure best results, it was deemed necessary to split the Hi-Y Club into two groups.

Early in the year the underclassmen formed a separate, independent club, the Junior Hi-Y, which is limited to freshmen and sophomores. However, throughout the year, the two clubs remained in close contact with each other and co-operated in the furtherance of their identical standards, the encouragement of: Clean Scholarship, Clean Speech, Clean Sports, and Clean Living.

Officers of the Junior Hi-Y were Bill LaTour, President; Bob Demass, Vice President; Bruce Caswell, Secretary; Wes Brandt, Treasurer; Terry Stokes, Sergeant-at-arms, and Dave Coombs, Chaplain. Mr. Johnson sponsored the group.

Senior Hi-Y

The Hi-Y Club is a branch of the national YMCA and is organized essentially to give service to the school. The ideals of the club are expressed in its aims: "to promote high standards of Christian character throughout the school, home, and community."

Officers of the club in 1952-53 were: Bruce Betterton, President; Ron Jensen, Secretary; Bud Dillon, Treasurer; and Leon Cheesbrough, Chaplain.

A Porter County YMCA council was formed by representatives from the various affiliated boys' and girls' clubs in the county. Ralph Bradley and Richard Wiggins represented Chesterton and were elected to serve as chairman and treasurer of the group respectively.

Besides numerous service projects the club held its annual spring dance April 4, in the Lions Club building.

Mr. Munro served as faculty sponsor to the club.

JUNIOR VARSITY

PEP BAND

Seated: John Canright, Bill Hokanson, Jack Ludington.
Standing: Bruce Betterton, John Dille, Max Samuelson.

Cheerleaders

A new method of electing cheerleaders was initiated by the Boosters' Club in the fall of 1952. Two girls from each class were chosen instead of two freshmen as was formerly the plan.

Under their direction, Chesterton High School was awarded the trophy for the most outstanding cheering section in the Porter County Tourney. This was the third time the award went to Chesterton High School in the last five years. The other two years the Trojans carried off the victors' trophy.

Pep Band

The Pep Band was re-organized at the beginning of the basketball season for the purpose of furnishing spirited and colorful music at games and pep sessions. These boys willingly gave their time and generously contributed their abilities in support of the team and school.

Boosters

"At the Sectionals"

The Boosters' Club of Chesterton High School was handicapped in its support of the Trojans by the fact that all games, except one, were played out of town; but despite the unfavorable conditions the Boosters came through with loyal and spirited backing.

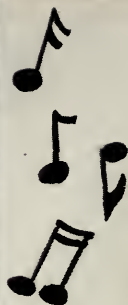

Mr. Betz sponsored the club and organized the colorful block "C" section for the County and Sectional Tournaments.

Officers of the club were Marcee Young, president, Bill Johnson, vice-president, and Kathleen Parry, secretary-treasurer.

The club held the annual Booster Parade preceding the opening game of the season and at the close of the season sponsored a basketball queen contest to raise funds for the purchase of an electric scoreboard.

Baseball

The Chesterton Trojans after finishing a close second in 1951, came back strong in 1952 to regain possession of the Porter County Baseball Title and the coveted trophy that goes to the winner.

Rich Wiggins and Bob Westergren pitching and Dave Parry catching gave the Trojans a strong battery and a fine nucleus for the ball team. Despite the team's batting average of only .206, they took advantage of every break and with "jet" speed on the bases, scored the necessary runs when needed.

Coach Edquist's spirited and hustling team is a team to which the fans of CHS can take their hats off with pride.

Cross Country

The Chesterton Trojan Harriers under the leadership of Coach Ray Edman, came out for the second straight year with an outstanding cross-country team. Led by Tom Wilson, Ron Stack, Wes Brandt, Bob Anderson, and Bill Johnson, the Trojan Harriers compiled a fine record of six wins and three losses. By placing third in the sectionals, Chesterton was represented in the state finals, and finished up in a strong 8th place.

TRACK

Despite the lack of a track field and veteran runners, the Trojan track team put up game competition in all of their meets. However, with the experience gained this year by the boys, Coaches Evar Edquist and Ray Edman will have the advantages of this experience to work with in following years.

Senior Varsity

For the second straight year, under the mentorship of Coach Evar Edquist, the Chesterton Trojans had another outstanding season in basketball. Although the Trojans fared none too well in tournament play, bothered mostly by the Hebron Hawks, who knocked them off in the county tourney and sectionals, they compiled a 15-7 record for a .682 percentage.

Forwards Dave Parry and Harold Hicks did most of the heavy scoring for the Trojans, but co-captains John Smith and Tom Wilson were the playmakers and set up most of the scoring opportunities. Art Price and Bill Blake handled the pivot spot and their fine team play and scoring in the clutch was responsible for many of the Trojan wins.

The Trojans scored 1294 points in 22 games for an average of 58.5 points per game, while holding their opponents to 1081 for an average of 49.1, giving an edge of 9.7 points per game.

The Annual Staff of 1953, upon completion of this yearbook, may now enjoy glancing through the pages of the annual, and remember the work that was done on each page. These memories, and those brought back by the entire annual to its readers, make all this labor well worth while.

Wills

I, PAT SEDERBERG, in my usual silent state of mind, do will and bequeath the following: to Mrs. Koch my nickname, Gabby, because she could out-talk me any time; to my little brother, Oscar, my ability to stay in one class a day at least, and to my sister, Marilyn, as much fun in her senior year as I had in mine.

I, MARY LOGSDON, in my usual fun-loving state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to Stan Akers a book to read while he is serving all those detentions and to Patsy Munn a few of my freckles to go with that red hair.

I, DOLORES RAK, in my shy, innocent state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep a date to that up-and-coming senior, Nancy Sabinske, and to Joyce Povlock, a box on air force stationery; and lastly, to Mrs. Dold, a wonderful Scoop staff, such as she had this year.

I, IRMA WINKLER, in my usual sleepy state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to my brother, Bill, the ability to stay on the road while he is driving, and also a chauffeur's license so he can start a taxi service.

I, CAROL BABCOCK, in my usual state of mind (?) do hereby will and bequeath my friendly attitude toward other people to that up-and-coming junior girl, Betty Nordholm, and lots of fun and good times in her remaining years of school to my cousin, Sandra Nelson.

I, RONALD JENSEN, in my usual questionable state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to my out-and-going, - - er I mean up-and-coming brother, Allen "Dink" Jensen, my ability to maintain at least a B average in citizenship and my ability to get along with my biology teacher.

I, PAT KANE, in my usual wandering state of mind, will to that up-and-coming senior, Mary-jane Murawski, my one and only nickname, "Wandering"; to Nancy Sabinske, the ability to make up her mind when some junior boys ask her for a certain date, and to Mr. Shields, the ability to repair the watches after breaking them so the shorthand and typing classes can take their time tests.

I, CAROLYN YODER, in my undernourished state of mind, do will and bequeath to my brother, Earl, anything that he thinks will help him get through civics and economics classes; to Mary Tierney and Joyce Povlock, I will all the fun I've had in my senior year. To Mr. Turner, I will an air-conditioner so he won't have to open the windows to wake up yawning students.

I, JUDY THURSTON, in my usual state of mind, will to my little sister, Dawn, a real swell senior year; to Jean Carman, a dog, so she won't have to go around asking, "How Much Is That Doggie In The Window?"

I, GENA MASTERTON, do hereby will and bequeath to Midge Oak my ability to take a joke without turning up my nose; to my Buddie, Chuck Deliotte, my ability to watch my notes during a test; and to my little (?) sister, Dot, my ability to get through school in 12 years.

I, JOAN McAVOY, in my most vivacious state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath my strawberry blonde tresses to Bob Campbell. (Maybe he'll be satisfied with the color then.) To Joyce Povlock I will my perfect tone quality for her use in chorus next year, and to next year's annual editor a large, economy package of NoNods and a calendar so they know when the annual deadline is. (We knew when it was but it didn't do much good, did it?)

I, JANE KISSINGER, in a sound state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to those students left in the halls of CHS my ability to remain there until after graduation! To my little brother Karl, a portion of my good behavior and alert mind during class hours; and to all who seek the things of God, I will the ability to find peace and joy through Jesus Christ.

WE GIRLS, namely LaRue Stephens, Carol Warner, Carol Babcock, Dolores Schaaf, Irma Winkler, and Shirley Yacko, being in our usual sleepy state of minds, do hereby will to Mr. Garth Johnson a jolly jokebook guaranteed to put a twinkle in his "Baby Blue Eyes."

I, GLENDA WALLIN, in a jesting state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to Chesterton's Crew Cut Clan Club, one adjustable bowl and a fold-up power lawnmower to promote their cause; and also a book of 100 infallible alibis for losing basketball games; to the one and only "Minnie" McCord, the ability to teach his students everything he knows and have them learn something; to "Lanky" Loren Betz, the band hat I swiped in 8th grade, (my conscience has been bothering me) and lastly, to the students all the good times I had in old CHS.

I, MARCEE YOUNG, in my usual calm frame of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to my sister, Sandy, my vital statistics so that when she turns sideways, you can still see her; my ability to pick the winners to Jim Hanna; my old broken tennis racquet to Marilyn Meyers for luck; my beloved nickname, Bruiser, to Pat Slont as a means of defense in G.A.A.; and finally, Bev Bross and Carol Groff can fight over my other nickname, "Miss White Owl."

I, LARRY GIVENS, in my exceedingly broad state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to Shields the ability to skid into the cars of poor little innocent students without bashing any fenders in, and to John Hine my name "Toni" and other properties, and to Jo Ann C. an entire personal gallery.

WE, THE SENIOR GIRLS, will to Mrs. Koch a nice big car so she can go to the Senior Girls' meetings, with a new dress to surprise her new Seniors; and to next year's Club we will a very successful year as full of fun as we have had.

Wills

I, LARUE STEPHENS, in my usual sane state of mind, do hereby will to that up-and-coming Junior girl, Jeanette Crill, my ability not to go into a deep trance when spoken to by the opposite sex; and to Jeanie Pinkham, my ability not to take other people's pencils.

I, AUDREY SAMUELSON, in my quiet state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to my cousin, Wayne Sovich, the ability to behave himself in public, and to my brother, Carl, the ability not to chase all the girls.

I, JOHN SMITH, in an unusual state of reality, wish to will: (A) to next year's librarian a gunny-sack to fill in the spaces in the library shelves made by the books that I never returned, (B) all the time that I lost by generally fooling around to anyone who can find it, (C) to Sue, a rabbit hutch to keep her rabbit in when I come to see her, and a senior year as full and as much fun as my own.

I, RICHARD WIGGINS, will to Allen Jensen my ability to play poker, so he won't ever have a bare moment.

I, BILL HOKANSON, being cynically amused, do hereby will and bequeath the following: To Mrs. Koch, my long neck so she can check attendance without missing anyone; to my brother Dick, my ability to earn a good grade in Latin without cribbing, and to those three sophomore boys, who don't respect the trombone as an instrument of music, I give the ability to adlib in "my own inimitable fashion."

I, SHIRLEY YACKO, in my unusual brilliant state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to my sister Barbara, anything that will enable her to finish high school. Also I will her my ability to be quiet in 5th period study hall so she won't have to be watching out for those white slips. To Chester-ton High School, I will the ability to appreciate the finer things in life that God has so richly given to us all.

I, PATRICIA MAE YAGELSKI, in my "Westville" state of mind do hereby will and bequeath the following: To Norma Kleberg, I will my height so she can spike the volleyball in gym, and I will the keys to my father's car to my baby brother if he can find them. (Don't look too hard, Eugene.)

I, DOROTHY BOERSMA, in my shy, innocent (?) state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath my forward, noisy way to my quiet, bashful brother, Bill, and to Susie and Beasy a life's supply of bouillon cubes so that they can eat all the pie a la mode they want.

I, CONNIE BENNETT, in my usual "lovable" state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to that sophomore casanova, Ronnie Stack, my excess height so he won't have to stand on tip-toe to kiss the girls goodnight. I also will my ability (if it takes any) to drive a bunch of kids from one end of the earth to the other to anyone who is nuts enough to take it.

I, JEANETTE BRICKNER, in my usual "studious" state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to Mr. Edman a mechanical test grader; to the athletic office a secretary, (they need one), and last but not least, to my little brother, Ray, my ability to make the honor roll at least once during my four years of high school.

I, SUE BERGQUIST, in my usual calm state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath the following: To Stanley Akers a date with my sister, Kay, without having to drag someone extra along with them, and to those boy-crazy freshman girls, the Crummie Dummies, the ability to talk on the telephone for a moderate length of time instead of hours as they do.

I, EDDIE STEFANKO, will to those sophomore girls a low flying cloud so they can lower their noses a little and still have the satisfaction of having them in the clouds; and to Andrea Borg, a walkie-talkie.

I, LAVONNE JOHNSON, in my impulsive state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to that up-and-coming 7th grader, Tommy Bush, a cookie box all of his own and to that adorable Meredith Stavropoulos, my ability to get along with Miss Morgan and all the fun and happiness to be found in the Halls of Ivy.

We Three, PAT COSLET, NANCY FRAME, and CATHY STEWART, in our usual serious states of mind, do hereby will and bequeath to Mr. Dewey Edlen Gourley, our artistic ability, Northern accents, good taste in clothes, and long blond curls.

I, JOAN YOUNGREN, in my "California Here I Come" state of mind, hereby will and bequeath to Terry Long my 5 ft. 9 in. height so that he may be able to play basketball, (he wants to so much); to a certain little freshie I leave my last place in line; and to my cousins all the luck in high school, they may need it.

I, JANET TOMSICH, in my crazy state of mind, do hereby will to my little (so to speak) brother my ability to get through Biology class.

I, LOIS SEYMOUR, with my usual generosity, hereby will and bequeath my car troubles to Marvin Carter. . . . Hope you can manage!

I, NEOMIA OKE, in my manhating (?) state of mind, do hereby will and bequeath the following: To my little sister ,Verna Mae, my ability not to get so excited over a little ring, after all Verna, it won't be your last. And to my rough, tough and ready junior buddies loads of luck in their senior year . . . that is, if they make it. To Stan "Lover" Akers a bottle of peroxide to keep his sideburns touched up.

Prophecies

CAROL BABCOCK and JEANETTE BRICKNER work as nurses in a Home for the Aged. They claim that they get their fill of "old pills."

CONNIE BENNETT is still making her Wednesday and Friday trips to the "Blakely 15th Street Filling Station," but now that she is in the family she gets a slight discount.

SUE BERGQUIST and JUDY KORITZ have at last become clarinet teachers, and are quite successful at swindling people into taking lessons. Their motto is: "Go blow, and we'll take your money."

EVELYN BESCHINSKI and PAT YAGELSKI are members of a co-operative typing concern at Peckin Industries—they throw each others' carriage.

BRUCE BETTERTON has become the star of his one-man band, and plays regularly for a local funeral home. His most popular number is "Down Yonder."

DOROTHY BOERSMA and PAT SEDERBERG are rehearsing for their double wedding ceremony and are desperately in need of something old, something new, and something borrowed. They already have something blue—their fiances.

RALPH BRADLEY and DELMER OLSON are new managers of the Chicago Stock Yards. They say it's rather difficult doing business with such "bull-headed things."

DENNY BUCKSBARG and JIM TILDEN are successful policemen, and so far their combination has captured every wanted man. The crooks are always within one or the other's reach.

MARILYN COOK has just broken the world's shorthand record. After searching frantically for many years she finally found 5 lost 80-word shorthand pins. She now sports 400 words per minute on her lapel.

KEN COOPER has received 57 proposals, and has succeeded in turning down all but the last; it "Shirley" has him Stumped.

WALTER DEVINE and MARK GOLDSTINE have responsible positions as veil pressers for Salome's Seclude in Cal City.

JOHN DILLE and ALAN McNEIL have built a special stock car which they call a mulemobile —because it never wants to start.

BUD DILLON and LARRY GIVENS have organized a basketball team that goes under the name of "The Scrubbers,"—they figure that they'll soon be washed up.

JIM FANT, after seven years of tough competition, has become editor of the Dry Gulch Gazette in Ghostown, Nevada. The other member of the staff finally gave in and switched positions with Jim.

FRANK FARRELL has just opened a self service reducing salon. His motto is: "Tub-by or Not Tub-by."

EARL FERGUSON is the speediest lawyer on this side of Skid-Row—it's just one case after another!

HEDY FODOR and KATE SPANN are the head manicurists for the B. R. Victim Beauty Salon. All day long they file nails. Their only remark is, "Let's get to the point."

NANCY FRAME and CATHY STEWART have moved their Lonely Hearts Club to an oasis on the Sahara Desert where "dates grow on trees."

MOE FREED and NEOMIA (Fi-Fi) OKE are making careers as dancers in the "Pepsi" Burlesque House, (more bounce to the ounce).

VELMA GUSTAFSON and BETTY JANOSKI have begun packing their husbands' lunches in Gold Medal sacks—to make them think that they went through a lot of "flowery" preparations for them.

ELLEN HANNA is a prominent modern methods surgeon. She is familiar with a lot of "short-cuts."

HOWDY HICKS has been officially appointed to revise our present day basketball rules. From now on "fouls" will have new names—Turkish and chicken.

NANCY HINE is now an established dress designer. Her newest creation is a beau-catching sheer, the "spouse blouse."

BILL HOKANSON is a Potawattamie Scout Camp Director. He is teaching his boys how to be uncivilized.

Lawyer RONNIE JENSEN is working on an important coffee case; but he doesn't know whether he has sufficient grounds to continue.

GOOTCH JOHNSON had begun doing part-time pineapple picking in Hawaii, but evidently the crop has grown to over abundance, because he just can't seem to leave the island.

Prophecies

LAVONNE JOHNSON and AUDREY SAMUELSON are professional models for a flannel night-gown company. They like the warm atmosphere of the business.

PAT KANE is the fashion editor of the Chesterton Tribune. Her latest article is entitled, "I Wouldn't Be Caught In A Net."

JANE KISSINGER and SHIRLEY YACKO are missionaries in Greenland. When asked about the progress they are making, they both say, "Snow easy job, icy."

GENE LEVANDOSI is a prominent figure in the wig making business, and is very tactful with his customers. In fact, everything he does goes to their heads.

JOAN McAVOY sings in the famous opera, "Follow Me"—she does the "leading part."

GENA MASTERTON says that she doesn't have to bribe her husband, Wally, to be good—he's good for nothing!

CHUCK MOORE is an engineer for the Gum-Gum Railroad. You can often hear his call of "chew-chew, here I come."

DAVE PARRY has at last become minister of his own congregation, and is always asking for "Munn-ey."

NOLAN POLLEY plans to retire on the profits he collects from his recent invention, a meat-grinder with a stop and go light. He fines all the speeding cows that go through.

DOCTORS ART PRICE and JOHN SMITH are conducting a very important operation. They are transplanting an organ to a dying man's chest. It seems that neither doctor had room for it in his living room, and they don't care for the patient anyway!

DOLORES RAK and CAROLYN YODER are prominent executives for a dog food company. They say their work is "Ideal."

RON SABINSKE is a busy fisherman. He relies on the comforting fact that there is many a "fin" connected with his work.

DELORES SCHAAF and LOIS SEYMOUR, grammar school teachers, are trying to teach their pupils how to write with pens; but they don't have the slightest "inkling" of how to begin.

EDDIE STEFANKO is busily engaged in teaching his youngsters the fundamentals of farm life; but he is having a difficult time explaining why brown cows don't give chocolate milk.

BLANCHE STEMPEL is an engineering instructor at Valpo University. They say her teaching is really "on the beam."

LA RUE STEPHENS and her husband Bill are mass production chicken farmers—they count their chickens before they are hatched.

DON SWOVERLAND is an artist for a local concern where he "draws" good pay.

JUDY THURSTON and MAGGIE TINSLEY are cheerleaders for the Harlem Globe Trotters. Compared with their hometown Trojans, this team is a little "shady."

JANET TOMSICH and MARY LOGSDON sing television commercials for Crosley cars. When they become more experienced they will graduate to a larger car.

FRED WALLACE and RICH WIGGINS are having ferocious arguments with their mothers-in-law. It seems as though they don't let them play third base on their Wallace-Wiggins Whammers Baseball Team.

GLENDA WALLIN has just taken all honors in the Olympic Swimming Contest. She swims like a fish—and her bubbles threw all other participants off their path!

CAROLE WARNER and PAT COSLET are "cutting corners" as economical housewives, and "pinning corners" on their new additions.

TOM WILSON is hunting "Neetz" in the wild "Bush" country of Africa.

IRMA WINKLER is a chef at Eschenbach's Restaurant. She causes quite a stir.

DAVE WOOD has just been fired from an established construction company. He built two bridges over one river, and the company didn't like the "double cross."

BOB YOUNG and MAX SAMUELSON are making huge profits on the female trade they get at their Highway 20 Filling Station. They sell gas in all colors, according to what the pistons look good in.

MARCEE YOUNG has the combined profession of gym teacher and registered nurse. After giving her Physical Ed. students a rough and tough work-out, she charges to bring them back to health.

JOAN YOUNGREN and BETTY STOUT are the head operators at the Bell Telephone Company. It's their duty to give people a "good line."
